

BLEW OPEN BANK SAFE.

Robbers Fired Fifteen
Charges of Nitro-
Glycerine.

CHARDON, O., April 5.—Half a dozen robbers early this morning blew open the safe of the Citizens Savings Bank here, and after a desperate fight with Night Watchman Patterson succeeded in making their escape. They secured less than $500 in cash.

The night watchman discovered the men at work in the bank. He was seized, bound and gagged, but not until he had shot one of the burglars. Dr. Hudson was called by the police and came to the scene. He was also seized and tied hand and foot.

The robbers then began exploding nitroglycerine to open the vault door. They fired fifteen charges, reduced the safe to ruins and blew out the whole front of the building, but the good townspeople awoke not.

At each explosion the robbers retired to places of concealment. They were not and engaged in an exposed place, and no attention was paid to them, except that one of the robbers whose arm had evidently been broken by the shot from the night watchman's revolver, occasionally gave him a kick in the ribs as he passed.

After completing their work the robbers fled from the bank in a hurry. Two men were arrested today at Willoughby in suspicion of being members of the gang.

After an investigation Cashier C. L. Barry made the following statement: "The robbers got $125 in gold, $2,000 in certificates held against the bank and $500 or $1,000 worth of new bonds. Some of the paper taken is negotiable. There was $2,000 in currency in an inner vault which they did not get."

Lizzie A. Mosche Williams, whose will was filed for probate yesterday, bequeathed to the Home for the Aged and the Home for the Indigent, $10,000. There was nothing in the will to show why Lizzie A. Mosche Williams was or where she resided.

PREACHER'S WIFE TO ACT; IN PULPIT 6 WEEKS AGO.

Has Written the Comedy in which She Will Be the Star.

PHILADELPHIA, April 5.—Six weeks ago Mrs. J. Clarence Lee occupied the pulpit of the Church of the Restoration in this city.

Today she is preparing to go on the stage as a star. Her appearance in the pulpit met with the fervid praise of the congregation. Commendations followed so fast that Mrs. Lee dreamed of comedy.

She wrote a two-act comedy, "The Preacher's Wife," and will stage it, directed by her husband. It will be presented in the church parlors, if the congregation is agreeable, or in an outdoor building, April 10.

Mrs. Lee said today: "My husband is going into the theater as a comedian. It is that of bettering both professions. Some education and refinement would be of infinite value to the stage, while a little real comedy force infused into them might make the stage more enjoyable to the audience."

With "The Preacher's Wife" another comedy, "The Preacher's Wife," will be presented on the same evening. Rehearsals are being held at the home of Mrs. Lee, and both plays are nearly ready for presentation.

Mrs. Lee is a pretty, enthusiastic, well-known actress. Her husband, J. Clarence Lee, has made no objection.

ADVERTISED HE'D GIVE GIRLS CANDY AND BIBLES.

"Fanatic," Said Wife, "Infidel," He Hissed—Needy Bureau Suspends.

CHICAGO, April 5.—An advertisement to the needy, offering a box of candy, a Bible and a "Life of Moody," was inserted in an afternoon newspaper here by Capt. Nathaniel Edson Sheldon, ex-army officer and member of the G. A. R.

He is a patriarch in appearance and possessed of religious zeal bordering on fanaticism.

After his advertisement he was called upon by a large number who claimed, when they were admitted by Mrs. Sheldon, that they wanted to see him for their spiritual as well as their physical needs.

CHINAMAN CO-RESPONDENT.
Merchant Makes Serious Charges in Suit for Divorce.

On a motion for summary judgment the trial of a suit for absolute divorce between Justice Smith in Brooklyn today, showing that William J. Lowry, a fish merchant, at No. 57 Washington avenue, had asked for a divorce on statutory grounds, naming Sang Lee, a Chinese laundryman, as respondent.

He asserted that his wife, Cora Lee, had been a teacher in a Chinese mission and Sang was one of her pupils.

In her answer Mrs. Lowry denies the charges and says she has been living with her mother, the wife conducting a hardware business at No. 111 Putnam avenue. Sang's laundry was next door.

CLOTHING ON CREDIT.
Easter Crowds Shopping at the Manhattan Company's Store.

This was a busy day at the big store of the Manhattan Credit Company, No. 112-114 Third avenue, between Sixty-fifth street and Sixty-sixth street, where a big assortment of everything that goes to make up a proper spring costume is displayed.

The approach of Easter brought a big crowd of shoppers to the place. They were mostly women in the early hours of the day. They had a large variety of tailor-made suits, jackets, milk and cloth skirts and waists in all sorts of fashionable designs and colors to select from. The company not only has these on hand ready made, but also makes to order at the customer's desire. All the latest styles of modern youths' and children's clothing were also ready.

The store continues itself to children's hats, washes, diamonds and jewelry in stock. The terms are very easy, considering the low prices asked.

The Manhattan Credit Company has been established for twelve years. Its store is open every day until 9 P. M. and every Saturday until 11 P. M.

8 DAYS WITH BROKEN SKULL.

Adolph Johnson Supposed He Merely Had Bad Headache.

Adolph Johnson, of No. 135 Henry street, Brooklyn, went about his usual business for eight days with a fractured skull, and at last when he thought he had a "bad headache," he went to the Long Island College Hospital.

He is forty years old and a house-shoemaker. An operation was performed last night, but Johnson has only a slight chance of recovery.

He went to the saloon of Michael Thompson, at Huntington street and Hamilton avenue, on March 18 and not having money to pay for his beer, so he says, was set upon by the saloon-keeper, who hit him with a bung starter. Johnson was knocked out, but says that when he came to he felt a little sore about the head—that was all.

The pains distressed him so on March 20 that he went to the hospital, where it was found he had fractured the base of the skull. The physicians say it is a wonder that he survived even two days, with all the strain attendant to his daily employment.

Johnson was kept in the hospital last night and today Magistrate Bristol held him in $200 for examination.

BRAIN FOOD
Is of Little Benefit Unless It Is Digested.

Nearly every one will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains.

For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact every one engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Only men engaged in severe outdoor manual labor can live on a heavy meat diet and continue a health.

As a general rule, a good meal one day is sufficient for all classes of men, women and children, and a fine fruit and vegetables should constitute the bulk of food eaten.

But many of the most nutritious foods are difficult to digest, and it is of no use to advise brain workers to eat largely of grains and vegetables where they are in too weak to assimilate them properly.

It is always best to get the best results from our food that some simple and harmless digestive should be taken after meals to assist the related digestive organs, and several years' experience has proved Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to be a very safe, pleasant and effective digestive and a remedy which may be taken daily with the best results.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels or any particular organ, but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, pepin, diastase, and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

People who make a daily practice of taking one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after each meal are sure to have perfect digestion, which means perfect health.

There is no danger of forming an injurious habit, as the tablets contain absolutely nothing but natural digests. Colic, morphia and similar drugs have a place in a stomach medicine, and Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are certainly the best known and most popular of all stomach remedies.

Ask your druggist for a fifty-cent package of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and after a week's use note the improvement in health, appetite and nervous energy.
